We held the first DF65 regatta of the season. Denny was the race director for the first half, and I took over the second half of the 10 races.

Ten sailors showed up to sail. Six racers in the gold fleet and four racers in the silver. Racing took a while in the beginning due to the lack of wind. Silver fleet got a lot of practice with low wind racing.

Five sailors in the Gold fleet were racing with the A+ sails. I raced with A sails. The wind clocked around and came from the northwest to west for a few races. We called it after 10 races due to lack of wind around 12:30.
